“Our strategy and vision to deliver hybrid and multi-cloud data services is exciting the industry, our customers and developers alike,” said Charles Giancarlo, Chairman and CEO of Pure Storage. “Pure made bold moves in the quarter to deliver on our strategy with the acquisition of Portworx and the addition of Dominick Delfino to lead our sales organization.”

“We are pleased with our financial performance and execution during the quarter which slightly exceeded our expectations at the beginning of the quarter,” said Kevan Kryslar, CFO of Pure Storage. “Key highlights include consecutive quarters of strong sales of our Subscription Services, and record sales during a quarter for our FlashBlade and FlashArray//C solutions.”

Third Quarter Company Highlights

Pure continued setting the pace in the industry by changing expectations for data and storage management. The technology momentum in Q3 across the portfolio includes:

- Subscription Services momentum - Pure’s Subscription Services, including Evergreen and unified Pure as-a-Service offerings, grew 29% year-over-year. Selecting Pure as-a-Service in Q3, leading organizations, including ME Bank in Australia and The University of Texas Health Science Center, recognize the flexibility and choice that these offerings provide. Our unified subscription, Pure-as-a-Service, which includes Cloud Block Store, enables customers to subscribe to storage in their data center and the cloud, paying for only what they consume, making migration to the public cloud possible at any time without worrying about stranded assets.
- Advancing Pure as-a-Service offerings - Today marks another milestone and industry first for the Pure as-a-Service offering with the announcement of the Pure Service Catalog, which includes a number of new service tiers. The new service tiers deliver increased transparency and flexibility for customers, allowing them to choose the right storage service level for each workload. Pure is also making Pure as-a-Service more accessible by offering lower cost service tiers.
- Acquisition of Portworx, market leader in Kubernetes storage - In Q3, Pure acquired Portworx, the leading Kubernetes data services platform that enterprises trust to run mission-critical applications in containers in production. By combining Portworx with Pure’s industry-leading data platforms and Pure Service Orchestrator software, Pure provides a comprehensive suite of data services that can be deployed in-cloud, on bare metal, or on enterprise arrays, all natively orchestrated in Kubernetes.

- FlashArray//C Momentum - FlashArray//C, well into its second generation, continues to grow at an accelerated pace and this month, received the Best of Show Award at the Flash Memory Summit for Most Innovative Flash Memory Technology. The performance and financial efficiencies delivered by FlashArray//C enable customers to reduce the cost of running capacity-oriented workloads so significantly it eliminates the need for hybrid disk arrays.
- Strong FlashBlade momentum and AWS Outposts Designation - FlashBlade's unified fast file and object capabilities to consolidate and modernize unstructured data across a number of use cases including technical computing, analytics, backup and rapid restore is validated by strong customer momentum this quarter. Customers such as The First National Bankers Bank, Louisiana Office of Technology Services and Sinai Health System demonstrate that FlashBlade continues to be the leading choice to enable rapid recovery and defend against ransomware. Also in Q3, FlashBlade achieved the AWS Outposts Ready designation, delivering a hybrid cloud solution with all-flash performance, cloud scalability, and operational simplicity to accelerate modern applications and break down IT silos.

Guidance

Consistent with the prior quarter, Pure is sharing its internal expectations of Q4 business outlook, but will not provide formal guidance due to the resurgence and continued uncertainty of COVID-19.

Pure's current internal view of fiscal Q4 outcomes, which should not be viewed as guidance, is that total revenue for Q4 will be $480 million, a decline of two percent year-over-year. With the current view of revenue, Pure believes non-GAAP operating profit will be approximately $26 million in Q4.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

To supplement our unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements, which are prepared and presented in accordance with GAAP, Pure uses the following non-GAAP financial measures: non-GAAP gross profit, non-GAAP gross margin, non-GAAP operating income (loss), non-GAAP operating margin, non-GAAP net income (loss), non-GAAP net income (loss) per share, free cash flow and free cash flow as a percentage of revenue.

We use these non-GAAP financial measures for financial and operational decision-making and as a means to evaluate period-to-period comparisons. Our management believes that these non-GAAP financial measures provide meaningful supplemental information regarding our performance and liquidity by excluding certain expenses and expenditures such as stock-based compensation expense, payments to former shareholders of acquired companies, payroll tax expense related to stock-based activities, amortization of debt discount and debt issuance costs, amortization of intangible assets acquired from acquisitions, acquisition-related transaction and integration expenses, restructuring activities, and expenses directly related to the COVID-19 pandemic that may not be indicative of our ongoing core business operating results. Pure believes that both management and investors benefit from referring to these non-GAAP financial measures in assessing our performance and when analyzing historical performance and liquidity and planning, forecasting, and analyzing future periods. The presentation of these non-GAAP financial measures is not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for our financial results prepared in accordance with GAAP, and our non-GAAP measures may be different from non-GAAP measures used by other companies.

The non-GAAP operating profit for Q4 above also excludes the expenses and expenditures consistent with the non-GAAP financial measures described above. Non-GAAP operating profit is not reconciled to GAAP operating profit as the items that impact this measure are not within our control and/or cannot be reasonably predicted. Accordingly, a reconciliation is not available without unreasonable effort.

For a reconciliation of these non-GAAP financial measures to GAAP measures, please see the tables captioned "Reconciliations of non-GAAP results of operations to the nearest comparable GAAP measures" and "Reconciliation from net cash provided by operating activities to free cash flow," included at the end of this release.
